Editorial Note

For any journal and publication to be successful, a team of committed and dedicated people is indispensable. Although Legal Education Review has undergone some changes in personnel, we have been fortunate to have the support of many dedicated individuals to maintain the high standards and expectations of our subscribers. We would like to take this opportunity to thank two individuals who have recently left LER's editorial team, Annette Marfording (UNSW) and Rosemary Tobin (Auckland), for their contributions as co-editors. In particular, we would also like to thank and extend our appreciation to the excellent work of Lyndal Taylor (UTS) for her dedication to LER. We look forward to her return to the General Editor-in-Chief role from her leave, in July 2004. We are also grateful to the current editors, Andrew Goldsmith (Flinders) and Jeff Barnes (La Trobe) for their excellent work, at short notice, to complete this edition. In addition, we would like to thank the research assistance of Angus Young, Lesley Townsley and Hema Ramakrishnan of UTS. Further, we extend our appreciation to Lawbook Co. for their assistance in publishing LER and to the ongoing support of the Australasian Law Teachers' Association, who make this publication possible by their financial support and membership subscriptions. Finally, we are indebted to the many subscribers and article contributors for their continuous support.
